Dear Ms. Block:

Thank you for your letter of November 9. We appreciate your interest in The Institute's publication, "Toward A Systematic Approach to Environmental Impact Review." Unfortunately this paper is no longer available and we are in a process of considering a second edition. The Department of Environmental Conservation of New York State has also exhausted their supply.

I am however, enclosing a more recent publication which examines the question of Environmental Impact Statements and the criteria used to evaluate them. I thought this might interest you. The Institute is continuing its efforts to closely examine the National Environmental Policy Act and its implementation. Please feel free to call upon us if you have any questions or if there is any way I can be of further assistance.

Sincerely yours,

Gordon A. Enk
Director of Economic and Environmental Studies
